1 offered to make the corrections that we agreed upon and enter that information into the 2 record and the Plaintiff took opposing council at his word as Plaintiff had no reason to 3 believe that opposing council would do otherwise. Plaintiff has also sent a settlement offer
4 to opposing council but there has been no response one way or the other. Plaintiff has a 5 copy of the completed Joint Conference and Scheduling Report and has sent a copy of this 6 report to opposing council for their review and submission by June 2, 2014. Should 7 opposing council not submit this report by Friday, June 20, 2014, the Plaintiff fully 8 intends to submit his copy of the agreed upon report to the court on June 20, 2014.

9
10 2. Plaintiff has been limited in available time due to the extra hours he has had to work at the 11 Post Office. Plaintiff has also had a difficult, but not impossible, time at staying focused 12 on the matters at hand considering the circumstances surrounding him. Plaintiff is ADHD, 13 which is not without its challenges. Plaintiff has also been involved in defending himself 14 in an unlawful detainer case in state court and has been since January of 2014, under 15 Cowlitz County case number 14-2-00001-5. This case has had many elements introduced 16 to it, adding to the complexity of it. This has demanded more of the very limited time that 17 the Plaintiff has had available to him before really getting a good understanding of time 18 management.

20 3. Defending a home that the Plaintiff and his family have known for the past 15 years is not 21 without the emotional challenges he and his family have had to endure. There have been 22 many issues needing to be addressed as the Plaintiff and his family prepare to possibly be 23 displaced from their home and property.

24 4. Despite all of these challenges, the Plaintiff, with the help of personal counseling, has 25 learned to overcome these challenges and is fully prepared to move forward.

5. The Plaintiff apologizes to the court for not being more diligent in his approach to this case despite the many challenges he has faced, but assures the court that he will be more attentive in moving this case forward. Plaintiff prays that the court considers these facts and allows this case to move forward into the discovery phase.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff moves the court to consider the facts and hardships and allow this case to move forward into the discovery phase.

Respectfully submitted this 18th day of June, 2014
